Sharing your personal data and international transfers

1. For the purposes set out in the preceding paragraph and subject to acquiring a proper legal basis, we may disclose your personal data to external third parties, such as IT companies, providers of services such as hosting, cloud computing, marketing, or social media sites.
2. The Company may disclose selected information concerning the Users to state authorities and other third parties who request such information on an appropriate legal basis and in accordance with the provisions of applicable law.
3. We require all third parties to maintain security measures with respect to your personal data and to process it in accordance with the law. We do not allow our suppliers to use your personal data for their own purposes and we allow them to process it for specific purposes and in accordance with our instructions.
4. Because Reliance New Technology, Inc is a U.S. company, your personal data may be transferred outside the EEA. In such cases, we ensure an adequate level of protection for that data by providing at least one of the following safeguards:
 - the application of data protection clauses adopted by the European Commission, guaranteeing the same protection as in the European Union;
 - use of binding corporate rules approved by the competent supervisory authority.

Data Security

1. The Company's processing of your personal data is carried out in compliance with all the rules relating to the security of the processing of personal data, meeting the requirements imposed by law. We have implemented the necessary security measures to protect your data against accidental loss, unauthorised access or use, alteration or disclosure. We restrict access to your data to employees, agents, service providers and other third parties to whom such access is necessary for our business operations. They will only process your personal data in accordance with the Company's instructions and they are obliged to maintain confidentiality.
2. The Company has adopted appropriate procedures to deal with any suspected breach. We will notify you and the relevant supervisory authority of a breach when we are legally obliged to do so.

Data processing time

1. Your personal data will be retained for no longer than is necessary to fulfill the purpose for which it was collected, unless a longer period is necessary to fulfill our legal, accounting or reporting obligations or if the processing is necessary for the establishment and investigation of possible claims or the defense of claims, and thereafter only if and to the extent required by law.

2. Under certain circumstances, you may request the deletion of your personal data in accordance with § 8.
3. In certain circumstances, we may anonymise your personal data (ensuring that an individual cannot be identified irretrievably) for research and statistical purposes, in which case we may retain the data indefinitely without further obligation to notify you.

Users' rights related to data protection. Complaint to the supervisory authority

1. In certain situations, the User has the right to request the Company to review, correct, amend, restrict, rectify or delete his/her personal data controlled by the Company and the right to object to the Company's processing of his/her personal data. To do so, please send an email to: office@reliance.pro.
2. We would like to point out that we will not always be able to fulfill your request to delete your personal data, namely due to individual legal obligations or the assertion of claims. In such cases, this will be communicated to you after you have made such a request. If you would like more information on the individual rights outlined under this paragraph, please contact us in accordance with the contact details of the Company.
3. The User has the right, at any time, to withdraw consent to the processing of personal data by sending an email to office@reliance.pro. This means that the withdrawal of consent applies to the future and not to the processing that took place in the past, in the period between the granting and withdrawal of consent.
4. The User has the right to request the Company to forward his or her personal data controlled by the Company to another controller, insofar as the technical and organisational requirements allow the forwarding of such personal data.
5. The Company shall, without undue delay - and in any case within one month of receipt of the request - provide the User who has made one of the requests mentioned in this paragraph with information on the action taken in connection with the request, or on a possible extension of the deadline due to the nature of the request or the number of requests, or on the reasons for not taking action, and on the possibility of lodging a complaint with the supervisory authority and of exercising legal remedies before the courts.
6. The exercise of the rights set out above is free of charge, however, the Company may charge you a reasonable fee if the request(s) presented are manifestly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. In such cases, we may also refuse to comply with the request presented.
7. In order to comply with particular requests, the Company may request certain information from the User, in order to verify the User's identity and ensure the exercise of particular rights. This constitutes a security measure to ensure that personal data is not disclosed to unauthorised persons.

8. The User whose personal data the Company controls has the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in a Member State of:
 - a. his/hers permanent residence,
 - b. his/hers place of work, or
 - c. the place where the alleged infringement was committed,

if it believes that the processing of personal data relating to it violates relevant data protection legislation. A complaint may be sent by post to the supervisory authority's correspondence address or by email to the authority's email address.

The Company's liability and complaint notification

1. The Company, acting with due diligence, cares for the correctness of the Website's operation; however, it shall not be held liable for technical limitations in the possibility of using the Website resulting from the technical condition of the User's equipment or resulting from the failure of the data transmission (Internet connection) used by the User.
2. The Company requests that any irregularities relating to the operation of the Website be reported to the following email address: office@reliance.pro.
3. The Company shall process the complaints referred to in the preceding section of this paragraph within 7 days from the date of their filing, informing the User of the positive or negative assessment of the complaint, in each case stating the reasons for the decision.

Final provisions, amendment of the Privacy Policy, notification of changes

1. The Company reserves the right to amend this Privacy Policy, which amendment shall be effective as of the date the new Privacy Policy is posted on the Website. Any material changes to this Policy will be communicated by the appearance of an appropriate notice on the Website.
2. For all matters relating to the processing of your personal data by the Company, you are kindly requested to contact us at the following email address: office@reliance.pro or at the telephone number indicated on the Website under "Contact".
